

Simulator Pilots

All Entry Point North's simulator pilots have a commercial pilot license. They are well familiar with various simulator systems and can be hired for training purposes, testing new procedures, etc. Many simulator pilots also have military training experience.